according to pezzuto, "of all the plants we've tested for cancer chemopreventive activity, this one resveratrol has the greatest promise" (pezzuto 1997).
the compromise, as discussed with the johnson johnson board and in the subsequent letter to woodcock, adopted one of the panel's recommendations, lowering the daily maximum recommended dose i bought a number of things like mustard seeds, and coriander powder and they were each less than a dollar but cases like jacquier's damage our view of how such operations are run, in a set-up where innocent people ended up being treated as commodities.
in cases such as this, we are dealing with the first two sets of goals
